

Bringing the Garden Home

Bringing the Garden Home

Bringing the Garden Home

Recycled Bird Feeders

Estimated time: 1 hour

There are many ways to make bird feeders at home using natural and recycled materials. Hang a bird feeder outside your window to watch the birds enjoy a winter feast!

You will need:

- Birdseed
- Nut butter or suet
- Pinecones
- Oranges
- Milk cartons
- Cardboard tubes

For more ideas about garden fun at home, visit us at planttheseed.org or follow us on Facebook at Plant the Seed.

Recycled Bird Feeders

Estimated time: 1 hour

There are many ways to make bird feeders at home using natural and recycled materials. Hang a bird feeder outside your window to watch the birds enjoy a winter feast!

You will need:

- Birdseed
- Nut butter or suet
- Pinecones
- Oranges
- Milk cartons
- Cardboard tubes

For more ideas about garden fun at home, visit us at planttheseed.org or follow us on Facebook at Plant the Seed.

Recycled Bird Feeders

Estimated time: 1 hour

There are many ways to make bird feeders at home using natural and recycled materials. Hang a bird feeder outside your window to watch the birds enjoy a winter feast!

You will need:

- Birdseed
- Nut butter or suet
- Pinecones
- Oranges
- Milk cartons
- Cardboard tubes

For more ideas about garden fun at home, visit us at planttheseed.org or follow us on Facebook at Plant the Seed.

Bird Feeders

1

To make a pinecone feeder, fill the cracks in a pinecone with nut butter, suet, or shortening. Roll in birdseed and tie a string to pinecone to hang.

2

Cut an orange in half, juice it, and fill the orange halves with seed. Hang outside.

3

A milk carton makes a great bird feeder. Cut holes in the sides and fill with seed. Poke a stick through the sides to allow the birds to perch while eating.

4

A paper tube can be used to make a feeder as well. Spread nut butter on the outside of the tube and roll in seed. Thread a string through the open ends and hang.

1

To make a pinecone feeder, fill the cracks in a pinecone with nut butter, suet, or shortening. Roll in birdseed and tie a string to pinecone to hang.

2

Cut an orange in half, juice it, and fill the orange halves with seed. Hang outside.

3

A milk carton makes a great bird feeder. Cut holes in the sides and fill with seed. Poke a stick through the sides to allow the birds to perch while eating.

4

A paper tube can be used to make a feeder as well. Spread nut butter on the outside of the tube and roll in seed. Thread a string through the open ends and hang.

Bird Feeders

1

To make a pinecone feeder, fill the cracks in a pinecone with nut butter, suet, or shortening. Roll in birdseed and tie a string to pinecone to hang.

2

Cut an orange in half, juice it, and fill the orange halves with seed. Hang outside.

3

A milk carton makes a great bird feeder. Cut holes in the sides and fill with seed. Poke a stick through the sides to allow the birds to perch while eating.

4

A paper tube can be used to make a feeder as well. Spread nut butter on the outside of the tube and roll in seed. Thread a string through the open ends and hang.